SHORT CUTS IN STATE NEWS

The Latest News From All Over the State

HAPPENINGS OF THE WEEK

Danville.—Lonnie Smith, a negro, is in jail at Martinsville, being charged with transporting liquor on a Norfolk and Western Railway train between Henry county and Winston. Examination of his record shows that he was convicted a few years ago and sentenced to serve three years for store breaking, but was paroled.

Cape Charles.—Organization of the Cape Charles Rotary Club was effected when more than the required number of charter-members were present and elected officers as follows: President, Guy Webster; vice-president, Porter Allen; secretary, D. W. Peters; treasurer, F. C. Fitzhugh, and directors, J. W. Topping and J. R. Parsons.

Winchester. — Four million apple trees in full bloom greeted the 15,000 visitors who attended the annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival here. Dances, parades, a ride through the apple orchards and the crowning of Princess Shenandoah queen of the festival was included in the celebration.

Pressling.—The price of corn in this section is the lowest it has been for many years. Merchantable corn, broadcast, may be had at the price of $1.25 a bushel, while seed corn is readily obtainable at $1.50. This corn was held for a higher price during the winter, which failed to material-ize.

Lynchburg.—John McDermott, 16, and Jack Powell, 15, both of Norfolk, who escaped from the industrial school at Maidens, have been captured here in a railroad yard when, they said, they were waiting to catch a freight on their way to Norfolk. The boys have been absent from school about five days.

Danville.—J. Conart is in jail in South Boston after being pursued from Roxboro, N. C., by Officers J. M. Long and Malvin Clayton from that point to Riverdale, in Halifax. Four teen quarts of liquor were found in the car. The North Carolina officers detained Conart until three South Boston officers arrived and made the arrest.

Lynchburg.—Reports made to the annual meeting of First Baptist Church here showed that during the past year the church gave the sum of $21,446.82 for all purposes from all departments. The enrollment chart reported a membership of 1,400, a net gain of 100 members during the past year. There were 124 additions during the year. The pastor's salary was increased $800 for the coming year by Dr. Powhatan W. James being the pastor.

Lawrenceville.—The Auxiliary to Brunswick Post No. 40, American Legion, has accepted the offer made by the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorassan, to serve supper to the visiting nobils and ladies from Norfolk, and to the members of the local club here, numbering approximately 400 in all, on Memorial Day, May 30. Plans have also been perfected, as usual, to sell poppies on that day. These poppies were made in France by French disabled soldiers and their dependents and a portion of the proceeds derived from the sale is used towards the support of America's orphans of the World War.

Portsmouth.—Motorists from the territory to the west of Portsmouth, traveling into this section over the Suffolk Boulevard, will soon have available to them a new avenue of travel into the city, which will provide a more direct route downtown to the ferry lines to Norfolk. The Commission of Roads and Bridges of Norfolk county has opened proposals for the construction of an eighteen-foot concrete connection with the State road to Suffolk, to be built through Weatherson. The surfacing will be placed on Rodman avenue, and will connect the State road with High street, permitting Portsmouth and Norfolk-bound motors to turn into Rodman avenue when the project is completed, and after traveling about four blocks, make a second turn into High street, the main thoroughfare of the city. A straightaway course to the downtown section of the city and the ferries, a distance of about a mile and a half, will then be available to drivers. It will require about two and a half months to complete the boulevard.

Danville.—An electric iron left on the sleeping porch of the home of R. L. Pearman resulted in extensive damage by fire, the sleeping porch being consumed and the fire communicating with the supports of the roofs of the dwelling. The house was not rendered uninhabitable.

Norfolk.—Dr. A. Hume Sprinkle, of Staunton, will head the Virginia State Dental Association during the coming year. Dr. Sprinkle was elected to succeed Dr. Chester B. Gifford, of Norfolk, president, during the year just ended.

Lynchburg.—Marshall Freeman was shot Sunday by L. T. Doss, in Amherst county, when Doss was torpid with a revolver thought to be unloaded. Doss was enacting the role of a sheriff and while he had a belt on filled with cartridges he did not know there was one in the revolver. The bullet pierced the abdomen of the wounded man.

Danville.—The annual meeting of the Third District United Daughters of the Confederacy closed at South Boston without any action being taken on the proposal that representation of Northern military leaders be chisled on the face of Stone Mountain along with figures of Robert E. Lee and the most noted of his supporters in the field. The matter was discussed at length, but the Daughters held that the whole question was one which could be solved by the Stone Mountain Memorial Association.

Staunton.—Hundreds of Odd Fellows from all sections of the Valley of Virginia were here to participate in the organization of the Shenandoah Valley Association of Odd Fellows. Heading the list of visitors was Grand Sire Edw. Le Trinkle, member of Wythiville Lodge, No. 57. The festivities started with a parade at 2 o'clock, followed by a mass-meeting at 3:30, at which various distinguished Odd Fellows made fraternal talks. The Staunton and Clifton Forge degree teams exemplified work in the first two degrees, after which organization of the Valley Association was effected.

Portsmouth.—In recognition of the services given by the Portsmouth Fire Department in a fire which several weeks ago threatened the plant of the Parker Hosiery Mill and Dye Works, High street and the Bell Line Railroad, Harry A. Parker, president of the company, has sent to Chief Alvord under a letter praising the work of the firemen, and enclosing a check for $100 to be applied to the Firemen's Relief Fund. Mr. Parker declared in his letter that the work of the firemen, which was carried forward successfully in a high gale, saved the plant from destruction.

Berryville.—Berryville won over Royce four out of five of the Clarke county literary contests, which are part of the State High School Literary and Athletic Association. The following winners will go to Charlottesville on May 10 to compete in the State finals at the University of Virginia: Miss Nellie Nash and Jesse Parker, speaker, winners of the debate; Miss Dorothy Cooley, winner of the girls' reading contest; Joe Jones, winner of boys' reading contest; Bryan Lloyd, primer of boys' speaking contest, all of Berryville. Miss Katherin Funkhouser, winner of the girls' speaking contest, of Boyce, will also go to the university, to compete in the finals.

Cape Charles.—Ten pound tuberculin along the coast of Northampton and Accomac counties are now making good catches of trout, butter fish, porgies, squid and croakers with an occasional sturgeon landed. V HOW can you tell GOOD ROOFING?

We know of one that will withstand these

6 DARING TESTS

1 Lay a sample of Valvoseta Slate Surfaced Roofing on a hot radiator for 12 hours. See if it will melt or dry out.

Years of scorching and baking in the sun will not affect Valvoseta.

2 Soak the sample in water for 12 hours. See if the paper-backing will rot. See if the mineral surface changes at temperature here attached in tough platform.

Frost, sleet and temperature changes are not enemies of Valvoseta.

3 Soak the sample in water for 12 hours. See if it becomes soft or pasty.

Cloudbursts or hours of pelting rain roll off Valvoseta like water off a duck's back.

4 Immerse the sample in hydrochloric acid. See if it is affected in any way.

Smoke, coal or chlorine gas, acid or ammonia fumes do not harm genuine Valvoseta.

5 Lay a burning ember on the sample. See if it sets the roofing on fire.

Live sparks, blazing embers on the roof will not set a Valvoseta roof burning. Valvoseta is approved by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

6 Lay sample on the floor; scuff it hard with your shoe. See how little of the dust-surfacing will come off.

No concrete could stand up so severe as this foot-scuffing test.

No other roofing is backed by such advertised tests. Don't take our word for it—prove Valvoseta's quality for yourself. Call or write.

WHOLE BODY SEEMED IN ONE AWFUL PAIN

Morse, La.—Mrs. L. P. Lambert, who has been a popular school-teacher here for several years, recently told a neighbor of her interesting experiences with Cardui.

"Just before my . . . came on," said Mrs. Lambert, "I would ache all over. My feet, my toes, my arms, hands, head—my whole body seemed to be in one awful pain. I would grow so nervous that I could not hold a cup in my hand. My husband would have to hold my coffee for me to drink. Last fall I was in such a bad condition that I had to spend about three days in bed every month. It seemed to me that I was on my last go-round."

Then one day, said Mrs. Lambert, she happened to read about Cardui and the experiences of some women who had been helped by it. "I felt that Cardui might help me if I tried it," she continued, "for I had been suffering with similar troubles to those mentioned there. I had heard of Cardui all my life and I knew many women who said they had been helped by it. The very next day I began to take it.

"Very soon after, I began to notice my improvement. I kept on till I felt like a different woman. I gained in weight from 98 pounds to 110 and felt better than I had in years. I took six bottles right along and found it a splendid tonic. My suffering was partly due to a run-down condition and the Cardui stimulated my appetite and helped me to gain the strength I needed.

"I take a bottle every now and then, even now, just as a tonic to keep up my strength, but I am in better health than I have been in for years."

All druggists sell Cardui. Try it. H9

PAMPLIN

I saw a bird perched in a tree.
In front of my house one day.
It chirped, and whistled, and sang
Until it flew away.

It's not after bright-eyed birds,
But did not meet the aware,
For I would have been a con-temptible
To stoop to a thing so low!

Now, learn a lesson from the bird,
Whose home is in a tree,
And learn good songs that you may sing
In our great university.

Last Friday night Pamplin High School gave an interesting play at the Masonic Hall. It was certainly well attended, and the actors were congratulated for their splendid performance. This play will be given again Tuesday night.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached at the Methodist church Sunday night by Rev. Neal, of Farmville. Under the new regime it seems this school has been sailing over placid waters without a ripple to mar its beauty. A woman's hand combined with a woman's heart can almost awake the dead.

The Billy Sunday boys met at their regular hour Saturday night in the upper story of the temperance building. It's a pity that everything in Pamplin is not of temperance fabric. The combined influences of a community or town would go a long way in cutting out the curse of liquor. Then why not form a temperance club and make the whole town solid?

FOREST VIEW

We are having so much rain the farmers are behind with their work, just a small quantity of tobacco has been planted; and some have not planted any corn at all.

The storm Saturday night was quite severe, the rain fell in torrents and the roads are washed terrible.

The first time the road machine has ever been down in our section was last week. We hope they will not stop until they make a good road from Falling River Bridge to Nash's Shop.

Miss Evie Ford, of Lynchburg, spent last Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ford.

Mr. J. A. Martin is still confined to his room and improving slowly.

R. C. Sims and family were visitors in the home of R. W. Martin last Sunday p. m.

ROCKS NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Eugie Hamilton and Harry. Georgie and Russell Hamilton visited friends in Lynchburg recently.

Mrs. Aubrey Ransom, of Lynchburg, visited her mother, Mrs. J. R. Ranson this week.

Mr. Clarence Evans is sporting a new Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Martin and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Ranson, Cal, Frank and G. H. Ranson and girls motored to Farmville Sunday.

Miss Cassie Baldwin spent the week-end with friends in Pamplin.

The Women's Missionary Society could not meet Saturday on account of rain, but will meet Wednesday with Mrs. D. W. Dinkins. The new president is making a splendid one.

Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Caldwell, Sr. entertained delightfully Saturday evening in honor of her birthday. Decorations were in green and white, and the same color scheme was carried out in the honoree's costume, table centre piece and lighted candles.

Numerous games and fortunetelling caused the hours to pass too quickly, and a delicious sweet course was served to a long list of guests from Baltimore, High Point, Crewe, Nelson, Lynchburg, Campbell, Reedy Spring, Spout Spring, Oak Hill, and Appomattox.

Her popularity was attested by many beautiful and useful presents.

Commencement

Our teachers and students are busy—the Appomattox Agricultural High School is having commencement week and congratulations for faculty and student body are offered for the best year of the school.

Dr. A. B. Conrad, of College Hill Baptist Church, preached the opening sermon at Liberty Sunday evening to a crowded house. His address was a masterpiece and gave those whose school days are over much to think about, as he laid bare the inviting fields of opportunities held out to those who now contend for that which is right and high in life.

The graduating class this year is one of the largest, and there are more young men than ladies in it. They stand as follows:

Houston Crowder, Carterswille; Eloise Vaughan and Imogen Adams, Phenix; Virginia Harvey, Frances Gordon, Myrtle Smith, Grace Blanks, Isabella O'Brien, Idelle Ferguson, Louise Fletcher, Frances Ford, Virginia Reynolds, Cresie Drinkard, Allen Gills, Elkins Hamilton, David Rosser, Allen Thurman, Appomattox; Frank and William Carr, Nathaniel Robert Howard, Saxe, Thomas Ezell, N. C.; Drury Dickerson, Prince Edward; Emmett Elliott, Darlington Heights; Irvine Harvey, Gretna; Eugene Joy, Concord.

There will be presented 26 diplomas and several medals. Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, of the College of William and Mary, is expected to make the address to the graduates. Dr. Goodwin was formerly rector of a large church in Rochester, N. Y., and his address is regarded with much interest.

Reasoning

An interesting illustration of the processes of reasoning by which scientific conclusions are sometimes attained is afforded by the case of the human skull discovered some years ago at Chapelle-aux-Saints, in France which, in the opinion of some, is perhaps the oldest bodily relic of prehistoric man. This skull shows many of the characteristics of that of a modern day, but little indication of intelligence. Careful examination, however, revealed a slight excess of size of the left hemisphere, from which it was argued that the owner of the skull was right-handed, and consequently a user of tools, a conclusion which is thought to be supported by the fact that ancient stone implements were found in the neighborhood.

A Good Sport

A guide one day, while escorting a big deer-fat fall into the water. At last deer and nearly exhausted from his struggle, he managed to grasp a log and hold on to it. The current was so strong and swift that it swept his body under the log until his feet struck our on the other side. In fact as it crossed over he had to duck his head. Carried him up the shoulders, he caught hold of his own feet producing an entire circle of the log.

"I can hold on a bit longer, Jim," he gasped. "Have the goor, fellow that's in dead first. If you can!"—Tatler.

An Exciting Sport

Lieut. David Rittenhouse, holder of the world's seaplane record, said in Washington the other day:

"Flying is very interesting sport—rough, dangerous, but very interesting. It's like the life of the young millionaire.

"Have you had an interesting life? a lady asked this chap.

"You bet I have," said he. "I've been through four marriages and three elopements and two fortunes and five sanitariums."

The Culinary Art

A bank of hot biscuits—steaming and fragrant nestle in the middle of the table next to a little golden pat o' butter and a dish of the most tempting looking stuff I know. You can make a whole meal of 'em, for nut biscuits surely are delicious. This is the way I make mine and I know you'll like the recipe because it's simple, and easy: Sift 2 cups of self-rising flour and 4 tablespoons of sugar together, then work in 2 tablespoons of butter with the tips of fingers, add 1 egg well beaten, ½ of chopped pecans or walnuts and a half cup of sweet milk. Drop in greased muffin tins and bake in a hot oven about 15 minutes.

Our Cakes With Coffee.

We Southerners are almost as bad with our afternoon coffee as the Englishman with tea. I realize we're pretty fond of a little coffee and a little something o' the afternoon. For myself I like a bite with my coffee and little cup o' coffee are about as nice as anything. Clementine Victoria makes good cakes this way: Cream a half cup of butter with a cup of sugar, add 3 eggs and then a cup of cream with milk, 2 cups of sifted self-rising flour and half teaspoonful of vanilla. Bake in greased muffin tins 10 to 15 minutes or frost with uncooked chocolate icing.

If the young girls today were as angelic as Longfellow pictured 'em, he'd be trying to write a poem about the good old days when girls were girls. Modern folks with their devils' food cake and devilish ideas! But I reckon after all, one's as good as the other—angel or devil—if it's food cooks they'll get along. Now speaking of angel food, there never was anyone more angelic than my sister Lily and she could bake an awful angel food cake. This is the way she makes it: Beat the whites of 11 eggs until very stiff, then fold in a cup of sugar, one cup of flour and a teaspoonful of cream of tartar and a pinch of salt. One cup of sugar is next added gradually and then fold in a cup of self-rising flour which has been sifted three times. Add a teaspoonful of vanilla for flavoring. Bake slowly 45 to 60 minutes in a slow oven.

A Lovely Silver Cake.

Another Lily's favorite recipes is the one for Silver Cake and she surely makes delicious ones. The way she does it is like this: Cream a half cup of butter and add a cup of sugar, then alternately add 3 cups of self-rising flour and 1 cup of milk, beating well after each addition. Add a teaspoonful of vanilla and fold in the whites of 4 eggs beaten stiff. Bake in layers. Cover with white icing.

Popovers are a great favorite on the farm, especially when one has fresh cream to use. But you have to have a hot oven for popovers. On "popover" days I make a batter of 1 cup of flour, 1 cup of milk, 1 egg and a pinch of salt. Beat well and pour into hot greased muffin tins, filling them half full. Bake in a hot oven 30 minutes.

Rising flour gradually with nearly a cupful of sweet milk. Beat 2 eggs until light and add to the mixture with ½ teaspoonful of melted butter. Beat until very light and put mixture into buttered tins or iron pans and bake in a quick oven for about 30 minutes.

When Breakfast is Tempting.

Breakfast is quite a meal around our place and it surely keeps the gals all flying around to get temptin' things for them worldly appetites. Another thing they love is hot muffins made the way Sally Ann bakes 'em, like this: A fourth cup of butter is creamed and a fourth cup sugar added to it. Mix well. Beat an egg and add it, then sift in 2 cups of self-rising flour alternating with ¾ cup of milk. Turn into buttered pans and bake in a hot oven for 20 minutes.
